

Help with costs for PhD students

Thanks to the generous support from the NIHR School for Primary Care Research (SPCR) and the Institute of Health & Society, we are delighted to be able to offer the following bursaries to PhD students:

We have 9 bursaries available to cover the cost of the conference registration fee (£25) & travel expenses (standard class, within UK). Priority for these awards will be given to SPCR trainees with an accepted abstract, but non-SPCR students may still apply. Awards to SPCR trainees will be limited to one trainee from each SPCR department.

We have 12 bursaries available to cover the cost of the conference registration fee (£25). Priority for these awards will be given to IHS and Newcastle University (NU) PhD students with an accepted abstract, but non-NU students may still apply.

Further information:

-  Help with costs are for PhD students who do not have access to other sources of funding.
-  Applicants should explore all other possible funding routes to support their attendance at the conference.
-  Awards do not include support to cover accommodation costs.
-  All awards will be at the discretion of the conference organising committee.

Application process

To be considered for one of the above bursaries please apply by email to evalppi.conf@ncl.ac.uk stating your name; your host organisation; your PhD topic/title and current year of study; whether or not you are submitting an abstract to the conference; and, where appropriate, your estimated travel costs.

Deadline for bursary applications is 5pm Friday 31st August 2018
